America's Retribution is a dark, gothic 3d action game where you battle the evil forces across a post-apocalyptic world fighting terrorists, criminals and corrupt politicians. America's Retribution features a female assassin, a wise old man, a reluctant hero and a smart protagonist. Each of these four unique characters have their own weapons, abilities and tactical skill set. Together they'll form a strong, versatile and deadly team. Use your characters unique abilities like speed and invisibility, or in game call in devastating air strikes. This is it, the final mission. You're fighting for the survival of the whole world. Take the fight to the outposts of the evil overlord in spectacular aerial combat. You'll have to shoot down his flying tanks, aircraft and airplanes. Destroy all outposts of his empire to be the savior of humankind. This is it, game over. This is America's Retribution. The Mothership is destroyed. The evil overlord has been defeated. It's time to save the world again. So make a stand, save the people and destroy evil. The original NES level of Galaga that I created and designed for the Super NES, Amiga, Windows PC and Mac.

NOTE: This is still the same level that was also redesigned in the arcade release of Super Galaga. (Download Arcade Super Galaga). This level was then re-designed and turned into an arcade release called Super Galaga later in 1990 (Download Super Galaga). The original version of this game appeared in 1987, written by Nintendo themselves and designed by yours truly.

Now you can play in your browser for free and also save your game progress. You may have missed the original release but the level is near perfect! You will even be able to replay it with a great selection of ship selections available. Currently I'm working on the mobile version of Galaga but will release all games for free first. As of yet I don't have the technology to release versions to the Amiga & PC but hopefully soon... Work on Galaga II is to put the latest and most interesting fan made ship and enemy designs into the original Galaga "analogue" is to make the original Galaga style Galaga II. would then put the original Super Galaga graphic and sound in the current Super Galaga graphic and sound.

- Decent framerate and detail. - Use the mouse controls to aim and quickly to strafe or look around the room. - Sometimes there are monsters, sometimes it will be just the haunting atmosphere. - Plenty of ammunition and ammo refills, but you don't know how many you have. - In the beginning, you will need to choose which weapons you want to use (we do not teach you how to aim), and you can not edit the game afterwards. - Light is not your enemy, so keep your flashlight on continuously as the game progresses. - The rooms are interconnected, but you will always leave through the first door you came from. - Plenty of puzzles to solve and enemies to defeat to progress. - Blood will appear when you kill an enemy. Some rooms are bloody.

Features: - 13 screens, 29 minutes of gameplay, 30 different enemies. - More than 10.000 enemies killed by players in the game (so far). - Achievements. - Angry Birds-styled gameplay. - Classic atmosphere with a new twist. - PC and MAC available. Q: Is firebase realtime database node going to be deleted or is it protected for deletion Is the nodes in firebase real time database permanent or are they deleted after they get deleted from the firebase real time database? A: The Firebase Realtime Database stores data at node level which means that once you delete that node from Realtime Database, the data stored there will no longer be available. To prevent this, you have to use Realtime Database's security rules to deny write access to deleted nodes. You can make the rules as below: { "rules": { "posts": { "$postid": { ".read": "auth!= null", ".write": "auth!= null && auth.uid === $postid" } } } } This rule will deny the update of posts that deleted node. The authentication is used to ensure that the request is coming

Pages Tuesday, November 14, 2016 Crying In the Night by Apartment 3 Playground Welcome to the first of our monthly reviews, and we are talking about CRIING IN THE NIGHT! Crafted by Urban Twilight and designed by Cartulary. According to Urban Twilight, here is what she had to say on her blog about her creating story for this kit: I created this kit thinking of inspiration in loss, it's a story that I felt like needed to be told! My mission for this Articals was to create a kit that was kitschy in nature, one that would be easy to create, and one which would make you feel like a kid in a candy shop! I think I'm getting there, lol. The binding of this kit is one of the most important parts of the art. You need to get the best it can be for your card base, and bind it properly for the greatest look, I folded it up just a tad too tight at first, and then realized after finishing the other cards I could move it back a little. Here is what you need to make your own kit. To make the kit, you will need four star pattern papers; two bright, one dark and one patterned; a rectangle paper for the base of your card; card stock in the colors needed; scissors and ink pen; stamp set; epoxy glue; paint; and I alternated part with the adhesive products to make my card lay flat, definitely a messy job. The most difficult part of the kit was the main big part of the kit, I used two different hemp twine for the knots, it was hard to get the right amount of knots, but once I got the knots spot-on I was a winner and proud. The most difficult part to make was the smiley face on the middle of the pouch, I remember this card being one of the most frustrating I had to ever do, and I had to use the skin color again, this time I did get the brown/white a
