Quantitative analysis of etomidate and its glucuronide metabolite in human plasma by high-performance liquid chromatography. Etomidate, an imidazole derivative, is used as the primary induction agent in anesthesia. However, the pharmacokinetics of this agent have not been fully elucidated, and it has not been possible to monitor the changes in the concentration of this drug in blood due to intravenous injections to patients. Therefore, a sensitive and specific method for the quantitation of etomidate and its glucuronide metabolite in human plasma was developed. Protein precipitation with acetonitrile was employed as the sample preparation. The plasma samples were separated on a C18 reversed-phase column with isocratic elution using a mobile phase containing 3% acetonitrile and 0.1% trifluoroacetic acid (v/v), and monitored with a UV detector at a wavelength of 274 nm. The calibration curves for etomidate and etomidate glucuronide were linear over the concentration range 0.050-10.0 microg/ml and 1.00-100.0 microg/ml, respectively. The limits of quantification were found to be 1.00 microg/ml for both etomidate and etomidate glucuronide. The intra-day relative standard deviation ranged from 1.14 to 8.91% and the inter-day relative standard deviation ranged from 2.51 to 8.94% for etomidate and 1.40-9.16% and 2.81-9.85% for etomidate glucuronide, respectively. A blood sample from a patient was analyzed, and the results of the present method indicated a rapid drop in the concentration of etomidate and its glucuronide in plasma within 3 min, and no evidence of the development of the antianaphylactic effect that this drug produces. The form needs to be able to send payments via PayPal without reloading the page. I can not seem to get access to the "OnSuccess" and "OnFailure" events required to send a payment and make the appropriate call to Paypal. Note: This is an extension of my previous question but it doesn't seem to be working. I have tried creating a new view model with the PayPal PaymentDetails and returning the view, but I still have no success at grabbing the events. My model: public class PaymentViewModel { public DateTime Date { get; set; } public string Description { get; set; } public int Total { get; set; } public DateTime? BillingDate
